AN INSPIRING GARDEN – AN INSPIRING PERSONAL JOURNEY

“My ultimate aim is to create a ‘self-sustaining garden ecosystem’ – a garden where I don’t have to water, weed, fertilise, kill pests – or even sow seeds!” Jeff Hodges

Jeff Hodges is an environmental scientist, lecturer and avid gardener. His commitment, enthusiasm and practical know-how made Natural Gardening an immediate best seller when first published in 1989. With this new revised and updated edition, more Australians can learn how to garden in harmony with Nature.

Come and meet Jeff Hodges and learn how he is working to achieve his vision. He will talk about his new book called Natural Gardening in Australia

Jeff is also the Director of Sportsmind Institute, an organisation that makes consistent and very generous donations to Men of the Trees Inc (WA) and has done so for over 20 years. To express our appreciation, MOTT will, use this occasion to present Jeff with MOTT's Outstanding Environmental Consciousness award.
